

Adware/Spyware can be installed on our pc's just by visiting a website... even if you have your browser locked down. How is this not considered tresspassing???? I am sick and tired of going out on the internet then having to spend TWO days out of my life removing this malicious, infectious garbage from my machine because it is not illegal.... it's like someone walking into your house and setting up a camera to watch and record everything you do.... and then sending out invitations to others to invite them is as well!!! Please PLEASE do something about this very much out of control problem.
